HOLIDAY!

Course	English	Grade	8th Grade	Duration	4 lesson hours (4x40')

This scenario is designed to assist teachers in providing an effective learning experience utilising technology. The teacher may utilise this scenario, which is presented as an exemplar, or adapt it to align with the specific requirements of the students and the physical conditions of the educational institution.

Overview

This learning scenario engages the students in a collaborative process of creating holiday itineraries, thereby providing opportunities to practise listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills. Through the use of various online tools, the students expand their tourism-specific vocabulary and grammatical structures, developing proficiency in explanation, comparison, description, preference expression, and narration. The process commences with the students collaborating in groups to brainstorm and outline their ideal holiday itineraries, providing justifications for their choices. Subsequently, they share these detailed plans with their classmates, fostering an environment of constructive feedback. With the teacher's guidance, the students refine their language skills through the incorporation of this feedback. Throughout this process, the students assume an active role in their learning, collaborating with peers, brainstorming ideas, creating presentations, presenting their work, and reflecting on their learning experience, all while leveraging technology to enhance their language acquisition.

APPLICATION

Activities

Before the Lesson

Before the class, the teacher creates a digital survey on EBA. This survey includes questions such as "What type of holiday do you prefer?", "Which activity do you like most?" and "Which place would you like to visit?" This process facilitates the discovery of shared preferences and possible holiday concepts through data analysis. The teacher prepares a Holiday Types presentation including various holiday types by using one of the interactive presentation tools.

Lesson 1 (IT Class)

Pre-Activity

The teacher presents slides showcasing different types of holidays (beach vacations, city breaks, adventure trips, etc.) to prepare the students for upcoming activities, the Holiday Types presentation.

While Activity

The teacher asks the students to brainstorm ideas for the next holiday, providing them with clues and guiding them through the process: "Suppose that you are going on a holiday with your family. What kind of holiday do you prefer? Why?"

The students are divided into groups to discuss their preferred holiday types within the allotted time set by the teacher. Groups with similar preferences are formed. The teacher provides guidance as needed. Subsequently, each group submits a written summary outlining their preferred holiday destination and the reasons behind their choice.

The teacher asks the groups to turn their reports into presentations. For this, the teacher asks the students to use interactive presentation tools. The teacher then poses a new question for group discussion: "As a group, discuss your individual preferences and try to come up with a new holiday idea that combines elements everyone would enjoy. Where would you go, what would you do, and why would this be a great holiday for your combined group?" The teacher tells the students to be ready to make these presentations in the second lesson.

Post-Activity

The students are required to create interactive vacation presentations using digital tools. To enhance engagement, they must incorporate images, videos, and audio. The teacher offers guidance on effective tool utilisation.

Related Skills: Communication, Collaboration, Digital skills

Before the Lesson

The teacher searches online map applications with various tourist destinations and prepares three sets of coloured cards (Green: Excellent; Blue: Acceptable; Red: Needs Improvement). Then, an observation form with evaluation criteria is created by the teacher and it is stated that the students will be assessed accordingly (Annex-1).

Lesson 2 (IT Class)

Pre-Activity

The teacher and the students choose one of the online map applications to see different tourist destinations around the world. The teacher asks the students to share if they recognise any of the places. With this activity, the teacher arouses curiosity about the lesson and attracts the attention of the students.

While Activity

The teacher distributes three cards to the students and explains how to use them (e.g., Listen carefully to your friends' presentations. Evaluate your friends using the cards given to you at the end of the presentation). The teacher introduces the observation form (Annex-1). The teacher informs the students in advance about the criteria on the form and provides detailed explanations of these criteria. One student from each group presents their group's ideal vacation. The presentation guidelines emphasise correct grammar and vocabulary.

Each group presents their work, followed by peer evaluation using provided cards. The teacher observes this process, offering guidance as needed.

Post-Activity

The teacher requires the students to create digital reflective journal using web tools for self assessment. In these journals, the students reflect on their experience during the lessons, what they learned, and areas for improvement. The teacher reviews these journals and provides personalised feedback to each student.

Related Skills: Collaboration, Digital skills

Before the Lesson

The teacher prepares a digital board titled "Vacation Dreams" on EBA, creates a "word box" for the gamification activity and outlines the competition rules.

Lesson 3 (IT Class)

Pre-Activity

The teacher creates a digital board titled "Vacation Dreams" and uses EBA for this activity. The students brainstorm and post images, short videos, or text representing their ideal vacation destinations.

While Activity

The teacher enhances the students' vocabulary acquisition through an engaging competition. The class is divided into two groups. The teacher prepares ten vocabulary words related to the unit (e.g. ancient, rural, landmark etc.), folds them, and places them in a box labelled "word box". During the competition, the students from each group take turns drawing a word from the box. If a student can correctly define the word, their group gets a point. If the student is unable to define the word, it will be returned to the box. The game continues until one group manages to score the most points.

Additionally, to reinforce writing skills, the students access Writing Exercise 1: Tourism on EBA. The teacher reads the writing text and puts the emphasis on holiday activities and places. They then use this outline to compose a paragraph about a place they have visited, integrating vocabulary from the competition.

Post-Activity

The teacher displays sample brochures by using one of the interactive presentation tools. The students are then required to create brochures based on their outline and the teacher provides support when needed. By integrating vocabulary reinforcement through competition with writing exercises and brochure design, the students engage actively in both language acquisition and digital literacy skills development.

Related Skills: Communication, Collaboration, Digital skills

Before the Lesson

The teacher prepares blurred or partially hidden photos of famous landmarks in Türkiye and also creates a word association test focused on vocabulary related to unit outcomes (Annex-2).

Lesson 4 (Class)

Pre-Activity

The teacher displays a series of images of notable landmarks (blurred or partially hidden) in Türkiye. The students guess the location and share what they already know about it.

While Activity

The teacher initiates Listening Exercise: Tourism on EBA to reinforce the vocabulary and structures related to unit outcomes. The students listen to the text and answer questions about the listening text while improving their listening skills.

To encourage vocabulary acquisition, a word association test is employed (Annex-2). This activity can be conducted individually or in groups. The students are briefed on the test procedure and the associated marking scheme. They are asked to senerate words and phrases associated with "tourism and preferences" and subsequently incorporate these into sentences that relate to "holiday plans". One mark is awarded for each valid word or phrase linked to "holiday plans" (e.g. seaside, abroad, souvenir). Two marks are awarded for each meaningful sentence pertaining to "holiday plans" (e.g. "I prefer urban places; I think they are fascinating.", "I'd rather have a cultural holiday than a historical one.", "I prefer a historical holiday.").

Post-Activity

The teacher reviews and evaluates the students' responses, providing feedback based on their performance.
