AROUND THE WORLD

Course	English	Grade	5th Grade	Duration	3 lesson hours (3x40')

This scenario is designed to assist teachers in providing an effective learning experience utilising technology. The teacher may utilise this scenario, which is presented as an exemplar, or adapt it to align with the specific requirements of the students and the physical conditions of the educational institution.

Overview

This technology-enhanced learning scenario aims to provide the students with an active learning experience using a variety of digital tools and web applications. The use of online and in-class games is an effective method of engaging the students in the learning process and making it an enjoyable experience. The students recognise country names from songs, associate them with flags, and practice pronunciation. They watch a video in class to learn and practice self-introduction. After completing an online matching activity to learn country spellings, the teacher uses a map app for a fun game on countries. The students are assigned to create a video, developing their four language skills through research, writing and speaking. An online survey assesses how well the students have achieved the learning outcomes. The objective of this learning scenario is to equip the students with the requisite skills to create a product at the conclusion of the lessons. This objective will be met by employing a combination of language and technology. The students help each other to achieve the course outcomes through the activities they complete in cooperation. At the end of the scenario, with the help of the activities, the students are expected to develop their digital skills and achieve the course outcomes.

APPLICATION

Activities

Before the Lesson

The teacher uses a visual creation and editing tool to prepare the flags of various countries, turns them into flashcards, prints them in colour, and brings them to the classroom. The teacher can also use ready made Countries and Nationalities Flashcards prepared by using a visual creation and editing tool (Annex-1). The teacher finds "Where are you from?" song and "Where are you from? Continents, Countries & Nationalities" video for the lesson.

Lesson 1 (Class)

Pre-Activity

The teacher enters the classroom and greets the students in a language other than English. The students wonder why they greet each other in this way. Some students may make a connection with the topic. The teacher tells them they are going to play "Chinese Whispers" and asks the students to line up. The teacher chooses a word from" another language that is used in greetings. For example, the teacher chooses the word "Ciao" to say "Hello" in Italian. The teacher whispers the word to the first student and asks them to continue the game. They whisper the word around until the last person repeats it. The game is repeated, taking the time into account.

While Activity

The teacher indicates that the focus of today's lesson will be on the examination of the names and flags of various nationalities, with a particular emphasis on the facilitation of question-asking and question-answering activities such as "Where are you from?" and "What nationality are you?" in English. To do this, the teacher plays "Where are you from?" song. The teacher acts as a role model for the students to repeat the lyrics.

After the song, the teacher distributes the Countries Nationalities Flashcards to the students (Annex-1). When the name of the countries is mentioned in the song, the teacher asks whoever has the flag of the correct country to raise the flag. While singing the song with the students once again, the students who hold the flags in their hands follow the song better and raise the flag when it is their turn. While collecting the flags after the song, the teacher asks the students again which country they belong to, and they can repeat once again in this way.

Post-Activity

After the song, which allows the students to become a little more familiar with the words, the teacher initiates "Where are you from? Continents, Countries & Nationalities" video in which people introduce themselves. In the video, people say their names, countries and nationalities. After the sample video, the teacher asks if there is anyone who can introduce themselves as in the video.

After the video and introductions, the teacher reviews the main points. They use these patterns: "Where are you from? I am from Turkey.", "What nationality are you? I am Turkish." and "How many languages do you speak? Two. Turkish and English." They engage in a question and answer activity using different flags to reinforce the topic.

Related Skills: Communication, Creativity, Digital skills

Before the Lesson

The teacher creates a matching activity named Countries-Nationalities with one of the web tools for matching activities (Annex-2). The teacher prepares speaking cards as samples, outlining what the students can mention in their video (Annex-3). The teacher can distribute them and let the students talk about these cards or the students can research and collect their own information as in the scenario.

Lesson 2 (IT Class)

Pre-Activity

The teacher initiates the Countries-Nationalities matching activity for the students to categorise countries and nationalities prepared with one of the web tools for matching activities before the lesson (Annex-2). The students drag and drop the names of countries and nationalities into the correct box. In this activity, they'll practice telling the difference between countries and nationalities.

While Activity

After the matching activity, the teacher divides the students into two groups. One student from each group takes turns naming the location of a country. The teacher gives a sticker to the student who finds the location of the country first and asks the student to stick it on the country. The teacher calculates the scores, announces the winner, and the class applauds. Through this activity, the names of the countries and their locations on the map are practiced.

Post-Activity

After the game, the teacher asks the students to look at the map. The teacher chooses a sticker and asks which country it represents. Then the teacher asks which of their friends identified the country. They use these patterns: "Where is s/he from?", "S/he is from..." and "I can speak English/German." At the end of the activity, the students are expected to be able to ask and answer about themselves and other people.

Homework/Assignment

The students are assigned the task of conducting research on a country for their homework. The students should research a country's flag, culture, common names and languages and dress in traditional clothes to record a one-minute video about the country. The teacher will evaluate the students' work and ask them to evaluate their classmates' videos.

Related Skills: Communication, Creativity, Digital skills

Before the Lesson

The teacher uses a video editing tool to merge the students' videos, creating a single material to be watched together in the lesson. The teacher can name the video "Around the World". The teacher evaluates the students' performance on the video with an assessment form (Annex-4). The teacher watches the merged video and prepares a Sample Survey about this video with one of the web tools for e-surveys (Annex-5). Since each class will have a separate video, questions should be prepared according to the video.

Lesson 3 (IT Class)

Pre-Activity

The teacher hangs the flag visuals on the board in order. The teacher tells the students that they will play a memory game. Then the teacher encourages them to count the names of the countries in order. The teacher takes the first flag, asks the studens to remember the flag in the 1 first place and encourages them to count the rest. Then the teacher takes the 2 second flag. The students try to remember the first 2 rows. The game continues in this way. Towards the end, the students may have difficulty remembering them all in order. The students who remember them all can be rewarded at the end of the warm-up activity.

While Activity

The students watch the videos they prepared at home. The teacher tells the students that they will complete an online survey about this video. The teacher asks the students to watch the video closely and write down what they learn about their friends, their countries, and their languages.

Post-Activity

After watching the video, the teacher wants the students to complete the Sample Survey about video (Annex-5). In this survey, questions and sentences related to the required outcomes are included. Thus, the information discussed from the beginning is applied with the online survey. After applying the survey in the lesson, the teacher shares the results with the students. The students review the correct answers and discuss them with the teacher and their friends.

Homework/Assignment

The teacher assigns Grammar Exercise 5: Getting Info about Others to the students and asks them to complete it within the specified time. The teacher checks the students who completed the activity on EBA and the percentage of correct answers.
